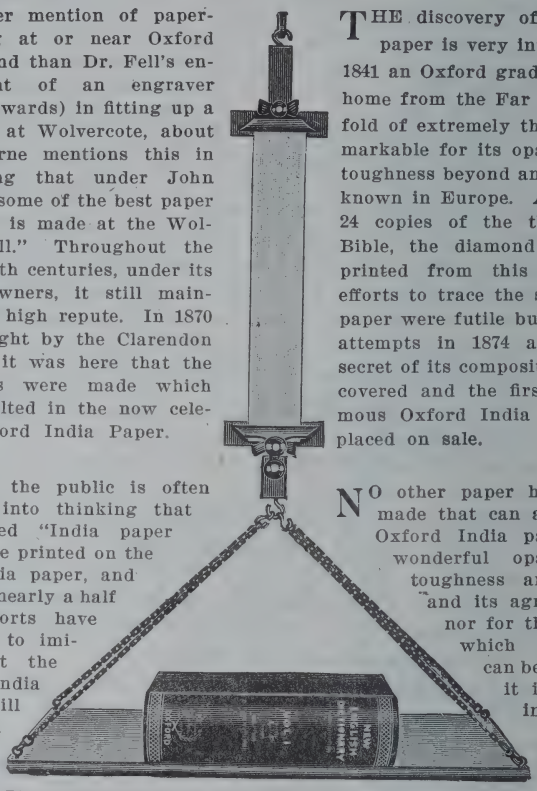
THE OXFORD INDIA PAPER

NO earlier mention of paper-making at or near Oxford can be found than Dr. Fell's encouragement of an engraver (George Edwards) in fitting up a paper mill at Wolvercote, about 1670. Hearne mentions this in 1718, saying that under John Beckford, "some of the best paper in England is made at the Wolvercote Mill." Throughout the 18th and 19th centuries, under its different owners, it still maintained this high repute. In 1870 it was bought by the Clarendon Press and it was here that the experiments were made which finally resulted in the now celebrated Oxford India Paper.

THOUGH the public is often misled into thinking that the so-called "India paper editions" are printed on the Oxford India paper, and though for nearly a half century efforts have been made to imitate it yet the Oxford India paper is still without an equal.



Photograph of a strip of Oxford India paper three inches wide supporting a quarter of a hundredweight

THE discovery of this unique paper is very interesting. In 1841 an Oxford graduate brought home from the Far East a small fold of extremely thin paper, remarkable for its opaqueness and toughness beyond any paper then known in Europe. An edition of 24 copies of the then smallest Bible, the diamond 24mo, were printed from this paper. All efforts to trace the source of the paper were futile but after many attempts in 1874 and 1875 the secret of its composition was discovered and the first of the famous Oxford India Bibles were placed on sale.

NO other paper has yet been made that can approach the Oxford India paper for its wonderful opacity, great toughness and softness, and its agreeable tone, nor for the ease with which the pages can be turned, and it is used only in the Oxford Books.

THE marvels of compression accomplished by its means caused great astonishment at the Paris Exhibition. Its strength was also shown to be remarkable. Volumes of 1,500 pages were seen suspended during the whole period of the Exhibition by a single leaf, opaque, although as thin as tissue; and when, at the close of the Exhibition, the books were taken down and examined, the leaf which had sustained the weight had not started, the paper had not stretched, and the solid-gilt edge of the volume when closed revealed no mark to show where the strain had been applied. The paper when subjected to severe rubbing, instead of breaking into holes, assumes a texture resembling chamois leather. A distinguishing characteristic of the Oxford India paper, as compared with all so-called India paper, is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read. The secret of its manufacture is known to only three living persons.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS AMERICAN BRANCH
DOMI NVS ILLV MINA TIO MEA

The Periodical

An illustrated Magazine printed at the Oxford University Press from time to time, and sent by post, free of charge, to book-buyers.

"To all who wish to be kept informed on the literary activities of Oxford, the PERIODICAL will be distinctly acceptable."—The Academy.

"Filled with notes and gossip of a kind to be enjoyed by readers and students—by all who love books, and—learned or otherwise—are interested in all that appertains to learning."

Requests may be addressed to the Oxford University Press, American Branch, 35 West 32nd St., New York City.

Speaking of the OXFORD ENGLISH DICTIONARY the London Times says:

> "It is the greatest enterprise which has ever been undertaken by the Clarendon Press, the greatest effort probably which any University, it may be any printing press, has taken in hand since the invention of printing. An eminent Dublin professor not long ago defined a University as an institution for the promotion of useless learning. A University Press in an analogical sense might be defined as one which exists, partly at all events, for the production of unremunerative works which, however, will tend to the benefit of posterity, and enrich the language and literature of the country."

IN view of this high praise it is interesting to recall Blade's description of the earliest period "The Fifteenth Century Press (1468-1487)". "A small room—two, or perhaps three 'cases' of type, placed near a window for light's sake—a rude and diminutive wooden press—a couple of workmen, and a bale of paper"—such were the conditions under which the first book at Oxford was printed. This is dated MCCCCLXVIII, yet internal evidence would lead to error of an X and that it really is 1478. While in the First Press Theology and Classics were nearly equal, in the Second Press (1517-20), peculiar for its short and almost unrecorded works, there was an entire lack of Theology.

THE third period (1568-1669) is that of the University Press in private hands. For upon recommendation of the Committee De Libris imprimendis, the University lent Joseph Barnes, a Bookseller at Oxford, 100 pounds to begin again the printing. Among the books of this period is one very interesting to Americans, "Capt. John Smith's Map and (account of) Virginia." Here also belongs Archbishop Laud who could well be called the first great manager of the Press. Just before and during the Civil War was the lowest ebb in the fame of the Oxford Press but this was more than made up in the Sheldonian Press, the fourth period (1669-1713) under Dr. John Fell. He it was who established the first type foundry in 1667, and with others personally carried on the Press, and built its new home, the Sheldon Theatre named after its giver, Archbishop Sheldon. He encouraged the building of the Paper mill at Wolvercote, and brought about in 1688 the separation of the Learned or Classical Press from the Bible Press. At first the printing was carried on in hired premises, then in the church of St. Mary the Virgin, and as we have seen in the Sheldon Theatre and from 1713 to 1830 in the Clarendon building. Both the printing house and the now famous imprint—The Clarendon Press—obtained their names from Edward Hyde, Earl of Clarendon. The new printing house was built mainly from the profits of his History of the Rebellion.

THE third name in the history of the Press is that of Professor Bartholomew Price. Under him the Delegates became the sole power in managing both the Learned Press and the Bible Press now housed in the new quarters. To him is due the sound financial basis of the University Press.

FOR the many curious facts in the early history of the Press and for the interesting details of the modern Press reference should be made to Madan's Brief Account of the Oxford University Press.

"THE arms of the University, being the open Bible, with seven seals between three ducal crowns, on the open pages of which are the words (so truly fitting for a Christian School) Dominus illuminatio mea."

THE earliest occurrence of the arms in print is in the books printed at Oxford from December, 1517, to February, 1519. From 1585 to 1640 various devices containing the University Arms were used.

ABOUT 1640 or 1650 the text "Dominus illuminatio mea," now used on the book, became recognized and has with the arms been regularly used by the University Press down to the present day.

History and Travel

CELEBRATED CRIMES.

By Alexandre Dumas.

New edition in four volumes, cloth, gilt top, with many illustrations, etchings and duogravures from rare prints and from original drawings by Edmund H. Garrett. With an introduction by Nathan Haskell Dole, and complete index. $10.00

This edition presents for the first time, in a uniform set, the complete text of Dumas' wonderful masterpiece, as it includes CELEBRATED CRIMES OF THE RUSSIAN COURT, translated by Mickael Gortshakov. The author was scrupulously accurate, giving every incident according to the evidence obtained by his exhaustive research, and the translating and editing have been done with skill and judgment, the result being a work of merit, not only as literature, but as history.

The romantic portions of the history of Europe, from Russia to Scotland, are given as only Dumas could write. The works include the crimes and intrigues, the causes celebres, of the royal courts of Europe, portrayed in the most remarkable manner.

"The reader will gain many powerful impressions of the secrets of court life, of the evils of absolute autocracy and its inevitable degeneration. . . . Alive with interest . . . not a dull page in it." — Brooklyn Eagle.

Note. — CELEBRATED CRIMES OF THE RUSSIAN COURT is also sold separately as a complete volume $2.50

THE SECRET HISTORY OF THE COURT OF ENGLAND.

By The Right Honorable Lady Anne Hamilton. A reprint in full of the original edition, published in London in 1832.

Cloth, 8vo, two volumes, with photogravure frontispiece $6.00

The same, half morocco $10.00

From the accession of George III to the death of George IV. Including, among other important matters, full particulars of the mysterious death of the Princess Charlotte and the murder of the Duke of Cumberland's valet, Sellis.

Lady Hamilton's Memoirs first appeared in 1832, two years after the death of George IV. They were immediately suppressed, presumably by the orders of the English Government, who probably feared the effect they would have on the public.

"There is hardly a ruin in Scotland but has a literature of its own. RICHARD LE GALLIENNE

ODES FROM THE DIVAN OF HAFIZ.

By RICHARD LEGALLIENNE, author of "The Quest of the Golden Girl," etc.

One volume, decorative boards, with paper label $2.00

The same, Persian ooze leather, decorative . . 4.00

Mr. Richard LeGallienne's rendering of "The Odes of Hafiz," as in the case of his paraphrase of Omar Khayyam, has been made from literal prose versions of the poet, supplemented by his own fancy. While he has kept as closely as he deems necessary to his original, his aim, as before, has been to make English poetry, rather than a joyless shadow of a great classic. He offers this rendering in the first place as poetry, in the second as translation; but at the same time his aim has been, as faithfully as in him lies, truly to interpret the great Persian poet to English readers, so that the total result of his endeavor is really — if not literally — Hafiz.

"Of all the renderings of the Odes of Hafiz which we have seen, Mr. LeGallienne's is by all odds the best adapted to give the English reader an adequate idea of the poetry of Hafiz." — Literary Digest.

With introductions, notes and glossaries by ANDREW LANG.

Complete sets, 6 volumes, 8vo, vellum cloth, illustrated, Japan labels $15.00

No library shelves are thoroughly furnished which lack the poems of the great Scotchman, who first made his wide reputation, it will be remembered, by his verse rather than his prose. His "Lay of the Last Minstrel," "Marmion," and "Lady of the Lake" have a rush and energy which recall the best passages of Homer, and many readers who do not care for poetry as such are devoted admirers of these great descriptive epics of the North. This edition is edited by Andrew Lang, which is a guarantee that the text can be read with the greatest degree of understanding. The paper is specially made light-weight stock, and the type is clear and bold. Each volume has a photogravure or etched frontispiece printed on Japan paper.

History

A HISTORY OF CANADA.

Cloth, large 8vo, gilt top $3.00

No other living writer is so equipped for an ideal history of Canada as Professor Roberts, who unites profound scholarship, balanced judgment, rich and graceful style, and a patriotic love for the land of his birth.

Noble is the word to characterize this new and obviously just history of the British Dominion in North America. A stimulating breeze of freshness seems to blow through it. We find the influence of Parkman, which is as it should be, but the point of view is distinct and modern.

This book is of particular interest to Americans for its independent treatment of the many questions in dispute between the two countries, from the Revolution to the present. With its maps, charts, appendices, giving the British and Imperial acts in full, and with its compactness of presentation and its fine perspective, it is of equal value for the citizen's library or a university text.

For Professor Roberts' books for children, see page 99.

NOVELS OF GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO

Signor d'Annunzio is known throughout the world as a poet and a dramatist, but above all as a novelist, for it is in his novels that he is at his best. In poetic thought and graceful expression he has few equals among the writers of the day.

He is engaged on a most ambitious work — nothing less than the writing of nine novels which cover the whole field of human sentiment. This work he has divided into three trilogies, and five of the nine books have been published. It is to be regretted that other labors have interrupted the completion of the series.

"This book is realistic. Some say that it is brutally so. But the realism is that of Flaubert, and not of Zola. There is no plain speaking for the sake of plain speaking. Every detail is justified in the fact that it illuminates either the motives or the actions of the man and woman who here stand revealed. It is deadly true. The author holds the mirror up to nature, and the reader, as he sees his own experiences duplicated in passage after passage, has something of the same sensation as all of us know on the first reading of George Meredith's 'Egoist.' " — Review of "The Triumph of Death" in the New York Evening Sun.

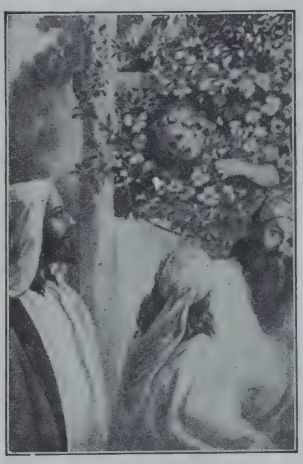
JOEL: A BOY OF GALILEE (New Illustrated Edition)

Cloth decorative, 12mo $1.50



This is a book worthy of the widest recognition. It is an interesting tale for children, telling the story of a little boy who lived in Galilee during the life of Christ. This boy, Joel, born a cripple, but restored to health by one of Jesus' miracles, is a manly and natural little fellow, winning the sympathy of all by his courageous spirits and sturdy faith. The life of Jesus, from its simple beginning to its glorious ending, is indirectly presented in a way to greatly interest and appeal to every boy and girl.

This book, of which this new illustrated edition has been issued in response to a wide demand, is an already established favorite in this country, and also in Italy, having been recently translated into that language. "Joel" should find a place in every home, both for the charming story it tells and for the noble lessons it teaches.

"Reverently written, it possesses much attraction for the piously inclined, and this seems to have increased rather than decreased in the years the work has been before the public." — Chicago Daily News.

Stories for Older Readers

TRAVELERS FIVE: ALONG LIFE'S HIGHWAY

With an Introduction by Bliss Carman.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, with a frontispiece in full color from a painting by E. H. Garrett $1.25

"Strong indeed must be the book that would not be overshadowed by so beautiful and perfect a gem of literary excellence as Bliss Carman's foreword to 'Travelers Five: Along Life's Highway,' whom Mrs. Annie Fellows Johnston has summoned from among the multitude of wayfarers. The delicate imagery of Carman's commentary, its dulcet sound and its note of what seems extravagant praise tempt the reader to lay down the book lest the spell be broken, lest the promise be greater than the fulfillment. But such is not the case. Mrs. Johnston's pictures are of the character that cause the mind to grow gravely meditative, the eyes to shine with tender mist, the heart strings to stir to strange, sweet music of human sympathy, and, as Carman puts it, to 'sit as at a pleasant window' and 'watch the pass' of the great highway." — S. T. Clover, in the Graphic Magazine, Los Angeles, Cal.

ASA HOLMES; Or, At the Cross-Roads.

A Sketch of Country Life and Country Humor.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, with a frontispiece by Ernest Fosbery . . . $1.25

" 'Asa Holmes; or, At the Cross-Roads' is the most delightful, most sympathetic and wholesome book that has been published in a long while. The lovable, cheerful, touching incidents, the descriptions of persons and things, are wonderfully true to nature." — Boston Times.

"The man or woman who has passed early days in village places and among village folk will appreciate this little book — so also will the reader who has been brought up amid city surroundings. The charm of the village, of old homes, old resorts, old friends, is a charm that is ever one of the last to fade, and without doubt the author has given us some clear revelation of it." — Springfield Republican.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated . . . $1.35

In this story, Mrs. Richards reverts to one of the happiest of her many phases of activity. With loving touch and without the suspicion of exaggeration or unkindly caricature, she acquaints us with the homely virtues, droll conceits, and pithy saws of the fast vanishing New England types. It is a book with a laugh on every page, a surprise in every chapter, and not a tear from beginning to end.

UP TO CALVIN'S.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated . . . $1.35

While not necessarily a sequel to "The Wooing of Calvin Parks," "Up to Calvin's" chronicles the further adventures of Calvin Parks, Mittie May, Ivory Cheeseman and many of the other lovable Down East characters who proved so entertaining in the previous book. Many new and some extremely interesting ones appear.

ON BOARD THE MARY SANDS.

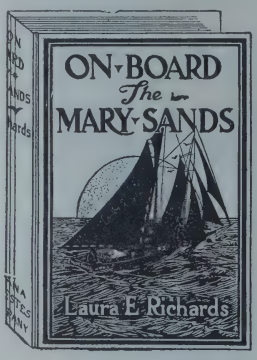
Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated $1.35

In this volume the admirers of Calvin and his Down East neighbors are treated to an account of what he himself describes as the "best part of my life." He says: "We had great times, Mary and me! Let alone to home here on the farm; there was the trips we made, times when I'd get restless like and smell blue water; and Mary would say, 'Let's we give the door-key to Mercy Lovely and tell Al to sleep in the stable a spell and we go off somewhere!' and we'd go! Gorry, we had great times, — that voyage we made to Floridy aboard the Mary Sands."

*MISS JIMMY.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated $1.25

"Miss Jimmy" is a story laid down in Maine, where the true type of the Yankee is found. It is a great deal to claim that never before has Mrs. Richards shown herself in all her power so completely as in this work. Jemima Dolly is simply a treasure, perhaps not altogether an uncommon treasure, but she is surrounded by just the right people to set her off in full colors. Earl Royal, the dumpy Sylphne, the reformed loafer, Dan Wilson, the undisciplined Rev. Lindsay, and all the rest of them are such real people that the tale wins its way into the inner consciousness, where it abides as one of the pleasantest memories.



Of course, this would not be one of Mrs. Richards' delightful stories without an abundant sauce of humor, and generous allowance of sentiment, so there are two love episodes between the first and last pages.

"The story is full of that refinement which appeals to the best taste. It takes for its motto Cardinal Gibbons' expression that 'A child's needless tear is a blood-blot on this earth,' and works out a beautiful and moving story." — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

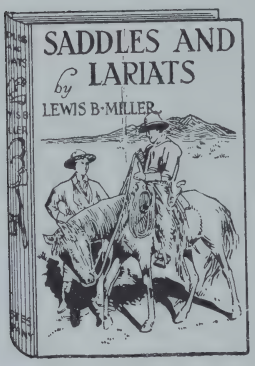
Pioneer Stories

BY LEWIS B. MILLER

Each one volume, cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, per volume . . . $1.50



SADDLES AND LARIATS.

Mr. Miller excels in descriptions of the old West and Southwest, which is fast becoming a thing of the past. His stories are all founded on fact, and are, in greater part, vivid descriptions of actual occurrences. "Saddles and Lariats" is the account of an attempt to take a big drove of Longhorns from Texas to California back in the 50's, and is largely true.

THE CROOKED TRAIL.

A thrilling narrative of the vigorous, stirring life in that period of the history of Texas which immediately followed that of the pioneers. The Rangers, aided by hunger, after the buffalo had been destroyed, had driven the savages on to the reservations. Next, in this immense wild region, the few hardy settlers struggled with outlaws and cattle thieves. It was a time filled with excitement and adventure which the author neglects no opportunity to portray in this tale.

THE WHITE RIVER RAFT.

The scene of this stirring tale is laid in the Mississippi Valley more than half a century ago, when the river steamer, flatboats and rafts were the principal means of communication throughout that section. The country was new and scantily settled and the mighty river was not only the main highway through which people had to travel, but also sheltered swarms of pirates and other lawless folk whose activities, together with the perils of storm and flood, often tried the courage and endurance of the voyager. It is as described the largely true story of a logging trip into the flooded forests of Arkansas, followed by an eventful raft voyage down the great river to New Orleans.

No other writer has ever given to the American Indian such charm and glamour, nor made him such a romantic figure. The Indian of youthful imagination is the Indian of Cooper's creation. No American boy or girl should fail to read these wonderful stories.

RAINY DAY PASTIMES FOR CHILDREN.

By Baroness von Palm.

Quarto, cloth, over 250 illustrations $1.00

It should be the aim of parents and teachers to direct the child's imagination to such amusements as will both teach the child something and tend to sharpen and develop the child's faculties and dexterity. It is the aim of this book to help parents and teachers do this, and to this end the author has presented a series of amusing and fascinating occupations that will promote quickness of perception and decision, alertness and dexterity, and will aid in the development of the idea of color, form and ornament. The activities include paper cutting and folding, stenciling, straw work, bead work, paper embroidery, paper weaving, etc. This book will be welcomed in every home where there are children of from four years upward.

PICTURE STORIES FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

By Edith Francis Foster and Margaret Johnson.

Square 12mo, cloth, illustrated $1.00

This is a book that will be intensely interesting to children from seven to twelve years of age. Just imagine a book containing more than eleven hundred pictures! True, most of them are quite small, but they are interesting because they take the place of words, and the children have the fun of interpreting the pictures into words. The stories themselves are just the kind the little ones like to read — fascinating narratives told in simple language.

Mothers will like this book because it will solve the rainy day problem of supplying indoor occupation for busy little minds.

It is the intention of the publishers that this series shall contain only the very highest and purest literature, — stories that shall not only appeal to the children themselves, but be appreciated by all those who feel with them in their joys and sorrows, — stories that shall be most particularly adapted for reading aloud in the family circle.

The numerous illustrations in each book are by well-known artists, and each volume has a separate attractive cover design.

The series has already attracted the attention not only of parents and children, but of young people's reading unions and circles throughout the country, and has been adopted for use as supplementary reading by many school boards.

The stories are mainly new copyrighted fiction, including the works of such engaging writers as Mrs. Annie Fellows Johnston, whose "Little Colonel" books have attained a favor scarcely second to Miss Alcott's "Little Women," Miss Edith Robinson, whose stories of child-life in Puritan days have won such popularity, and Miss Frances Margaret Fox, whose outdoor stories of children and birds and the wild dooryard creatures have all the charm of reality. On the other hand, the older favorites have not been neglected; and there is a well-chosen list of such child-classics as the stories of John Ruskin, Miss Mulock, and Ouida.

tion from this list. There is the historical story, the story of natural history, the story of adventure, the story of every-day modern child-life, and the dear old-fashioned fairy story. They are all alike in one respect, and one only, — that of being entirely wholesome, interesting little stories, safe to place in the hands of any child.

The attractive bindings, the charming illustrations, and the low price combine to make this series appeal strongly to those whose privilege it is to provide reading for children.

BEGINNING with "the planetary drama that brought the Rockies into the middle of the stage," Mrs. Baggs has with rare literary merit followed the fortunes of Colorado through the days of the baffling Cliff Dwellers of the Mesa Verde to the state's magnificent present. Special attention has been given to the marvellous scenery of this Land in the Sky, to the joys of outdoor life, camping, hunting, fishing; to the days of unmatched sunshine which has made of Colorado the "Playground of America" both summer and winter. SUNSET CANADA: BRITISH COLUMBIA AND BEYOND

By Archie Bell

Author of "The Spell of Egypt," "The Spell of the Holy Land," "The Spell of China," etc.

Archie Bell is firmly established as a writer of shrewdly observant and illuminating travel books which are, first and foremost, uncommonly readable. In this, his initial volume in the "See America First" Series, and the first of three similar books on Canada* Mr. Bell writes with all the engaging humor and appeal of his popular volumes on China, the Holy Land and Egypt, in The Spell Series.

He treats of that Wonderland of the West, British Columbia, and his journey covers, among other places, Vancouver of single tax fame, Victoria, the indescribably lovely Lake Louise and Banff, Prince Rupert and Nootka Sound.

The book abounds in vivid accounts of the hunting and fishing, the Indian life of the Province, the fur trading of the Hudson Bay Company, the mining, railroading and best of all, the gorgeous scenic beauty of the land.

Mr. Bell visited Edith Cavell Mountain and his story of this noble monument to a noble woman will touch the heart of every American and British reader.

"It is safe to say that no other book on Canada is quite so sumptuous as this one. It is attractively written and handsomely illustrated and is indeed a notable contribution to literature bearing on Canada." — Canadian Magazine, Toronto.

*In preparation, two more volumes on Canada by Archie Bell, "Central Canada" and "Sunrise Canada."

TRAVEL AND DESCRIPTION

A fifth new volume in the "SEE AMERICA FIRST" SERIES.

NEW MEXICO, THE LAND OF THE DELIGHT MAKERS

By George Wharton James

A companion volume to "California, Romantic and Beautiful," "Arizona, the Wonderland," etc.

Large 8vo, handsomely bound in silk cloth, with 12 plates in full color and 48 full-page illustrations in duogravure. Boxed, $3.50. Special Pasadena Author's autographed edition, limited to 250 signed and numbered copies, $10.00 to $25.00 according to binding

THE growing interest in the States of our vast Southwest makes this volume uncommonly timely. Dr. James, who has already contributed volumes on CALIFORNIA and ARIZONA to the SEE AMERICA FIRST Series, is famous as an explorer, author and lecturer, and is the recognized authority on the history of the southwestern section of the country.

In his attractive, pithy style, Dr. James reveals the curious lore of New Mexico's ancient Cliff and Cage Dwellings and Pueblos; spreads before the reader in swift panorama the story of the Spanish Conquest, the Franciscan Missions, which surpass in romantic interest those of California; the Sedentary and Nomad Indians, their tribal ceremonies and games and their industries, and presents an absorbing account of New Mexico's Flora and Fauna, its birds and game, its remarkable climate, its land reclamation and other public utility projects in its rapid development. Also a survey of New Mexico's splendid educational system and its progressive municipalities generally, their achievements and the opportunities they offer.

NEW EDITIONS

New editions of two volumes in the "LATIN REPUBLICS OF AMERICA" Series.

Each one volume, cloth decorative 8vo, illustrated from photographs taken especially by the author, maps. Boxed, per volume, $3.00

BRAZIL AND HER PEOPLE OF TODAY

By Nevin O. Winter

The United States' opportunity for capturing the South American trade after the war has been a burning topic for some time and its importance renders doubly significant this authoritative volume on Brazil, one of the richest of our future markets. Mr. Winter's book has been revised and brought strictly up to date and will prove valuable as well as entertaining.

MEXICO AND HER PEOPLE OF TODAY

By Nevin O. Winter

Since June, 1916, Mexican affairs have been held second to none in interest and importance to the people of the United States and this revised edition of Mr. Winter's standard work has the advantage of extreme timeliness.

"The author brings a large quantity of information gathered from numerous sources, into the brief space that makes it available for popular reading." — Boston Herald.

NEW EDITION

A revised edition of

THE ROMANTIC STORY OF THE MAYFLOWER PILGRIMS

AND ITS PLACE IN THE LIFE OF TODAY

By Albert C. Addison

Cloth decorative, large 8vo, with many illustrations from photographs and rare prints, some hitherto unpublished. Boxed, $2.50

With the three hundredth anniversary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth only two years ahead, and plans for a fitting observance well under way, this revised edition of Mr. Addison's sterling historical work, with much important additional material relating to the photographs which are an important feature of the work, will be found welcome.

"The story is written on the scene of their early trials. The old world haunts are faithfully portrayed. Their plans of escape, their stormy emigration, their journey to Holland, and their final flight across the ocean are all graphically told. It is an important contribution to Mayflower literature." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A good conception of the contents of the book may be gained from the appended brief synopsis:

WAR BOOKS

WITH OLD GLORY IN BERLIN

OR, THE STORY OF AN AMERICAN GIRL'S LIFE AND TRIALS IN GERMANY AND HER ESCAPE FROM THE HUNS

By Josephine Therese

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, with many unusual photographs, $2.00

WHERE is there another American girl who, before her twentieth birthday, has gone alone into the heart of Germany to study music, lived the life of that grimly desperate nation, seen her own country join in the struggle, suffered the hardships and indignities which that mad empire reserves for its enemies — women as well as men — and finally succeeded in making her escape by means of her Yankee wit, and all the while kept the Stars and Stripes above her?

That is what Miss Josephine Therese did, and her story of her experiences is not only a grippingly interesting tale of actual adventure, but one of the most vital books that has yet been written on one phase of the World's War which is of inestimable importance to the American public — the true spirit of the German people and conditions of life within the heart of Germany.

Miss Therese went to Berlin in the late fall of nineteen sixteen, lived in intimate relations with its people for more than a year and escaped in December of nineteen seventeen, one of the last Americans to get out of Germany, as she had been to get in.

During her thirteen months' stay in the land where hate is bred she had a unique opportunity of learning the life and thoughts of the people of all stations from official to servants, and her conclusions as to what the world has to expect from them are set forth in a frank and convincing manner. Kultur, the Prussian ideal and pernicious propaganda, morals and official brutality — every aspect of German life entered into her experiences and the true story of them is a highly entertaining one as such, and throws a clear, piercing ray on a much-mooted subject.

WAR BOOKS

FLYING FOR PERSHING

OR, THE STORY OF AN AMERICAN ACE WITH THE RAINBOW DIVISION

By William A. Wellman (Maréchal des Logis)

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

When a young Yankee athlete makes up his mind to play a part in the most thrilling game which the world has ever witnessed — war in mid air — the result is certain to produce a heart-thrilling story.

Many such tales are being told to-day, but few, if any, can hope to approach that lived and now written by Sergeant "Billy" Wellman, for he engaged in some of the most amazing air battles imaginable, during the course of which he sent tumbling to destruction seven Boche machines — achievements which won for him the coveted Croix de Guerre with two palms.

Maréchal Wellman was the only American in the air over General Pershing's famous "Rainbow Division" when the Yankee troops made their historic first over-the-top attack on the Hun, and during that battle he was in command of the lowest platoon of French fighting planes and personally disposed of two of the enemy's attacking air craft.

His experience included far more than fighting above the firmament. He was in Paris and Nancy during four distinct night bombing raids by the Boche and participated in rescues made necessary thereby; he, with a comrade, chased two hostile machines far into Germany and shot up their aviation field; he was lost in a blizzard on Christmas Day; he was in intimate touch with the men and officers of the Rainbow Division, and was finally shot down by anti-aircraft guns from a height of 5300 metres, escaping death by a miracle, but so seriously wounded that his honorable discharge followed immediately.

Sergeant Wellman's story, with all the intensely fascinating but horrible details of modern warfare in the air, is unquestionably the most unusual and illuminating yet told in print.

WAR BOOKS

THE YANKS ARE COMING

By William Slavens McNutt

Cloth decorative, illustrated, $1.50

Books without number have been published discussing many phases of the Great War, but there has been a dearth of accurate information available, particularly to the fathers, mothers, sisters and sweethearts, describing our National Cantonments and the training and developing of our boys — raw recruits for the most part — into well set-up real American soldiers, consequently Mr. McNutt's timely and informative book will prove most interesting and appealing not only to those whose sons and brothers are training for action Over There but to the American public in general.

William Slavens McNutt tells why no other nation on earth can turn out the stamp of soldier that stands back of Uncle Sam.

He has found out what that spirit is which makes Americans the hardest-to-lick soldiers on earth.

He makes you feel the red blood of manhood surge through your veins and a throb of pride that you, too, are an American.

The book gives the real spirit of the men of New England — the South — the Middle West and the Pacific Coast — men who make up the great American Army. A good idea of the value and scope of the book is given by the following partial list of contents:

"A New Idea and a New Army"— Entertaining episodes that show the wonderful spirit that is found among the men making up the new National Army. "What Are We Going to Get Out of It?"— Home Defense League, what training in the camps does for the men. THE STORY OF THE RED CROSS

AS TOLD TO THE LITTLE COLONEL

By Annie Fellows Johnston

Cloth decorative, illustrated, $1.50

THE countless admirers of the Little Colonel who are learning the story of the Red Cross to-day, will want to know how the beautiful story of this noble charity was first told to their most popular heroine in far-off Switzerland, the native home of the Red Cross.

This story originally appeared in THE LITTLE COLONEL'S HERO, but the publishers decided to issue it now as a separate volume. To this appealing story will be added a concise history of the development of the Red Cross from Clara Barton's beginning to its present wonderful proportions, written by an authoritative writer who is connected with the Red Cross and who has special knowledge of the subject.

The book, therefore, will not only contain an uncommonly timely Little Colonel story but will also give a valuable account of the Red Cross.

FICTION—BUSINESS

DAWSON BLACK, RETAIL MERCHANT

By Harold Whitehead

Assistant Professor of Business Method, The College of Business Administration, Boston University, author of "The Business Career of Peter Flint," "Principles of Salesmanship," etc.

Illustrated, cloth, 12mo, $1.50

As Assistant Professor of Business Method in Boston University's famous College of Business Administration, the author's lectures have attracted widespread attention, and the popularity of his stories of business life, which have appeared serially in important trade magazines and newspapers all over the country, has created an insistent demand for their book publication.

DAWSON BLACK is the story of a young man's first year in business as a store owner — a hardware store, but the principles illustrated apply equally to any other kind of retail store. In bright, pithy style the author narrates the triumphs and disasters, the joys and sorrows, the problems and their solutions with which a young employer, just commencing his career, is confronted. Relations with employees, means of fighting competition, and trade psychology in advertising are some of the important subjects treated.

The hero's domestic career lends the "human interest" touch, so that the book skilfully combines fact with fiction, or "business with pleasure," and is both fascinating and informative.

The remarkable success as a serial in the leading press of the country, of the author's "The Business Career of Peter Flint" indicates the welcome to be accorded DAWSON BLACK.

N. B. The Page Company will later issue "The Business Career of Peter Flint."

FICTION

THE MAN WHO WON

OR, THE CAREER AND ADVENTURES OF THE YOUNGER MR. HARRISON.

By Leon D. Hirsch

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated by William Van Dresser, $1.50

Mr. Hirsch has given the public a novel decidedly out of the ordinary — a stirring story of political life combined with a romance of absorbing interest.

In compelling fashion the author tells how Edward Harrison, recognized political boss, who had long controlled the affairs of a prosperous city was forced to admit that his unprincipled political methods must give way to clean government, an exponent of which he sees in his son.

Cleverly the author depicts Edward Harrison, the unscrupulous political boss; Jack Harrison, his son, who differs quite a bit from his father; Mrs. Harrison, the indefatigable social climber; and Alice Lane, a bright, lovable girl; and around these widely different characters Mr. Hirsch has written a vivid story of politics, ambition, love, hate and — best of all — of real life that grips the reader.

FICTION

THE STRANGE ADVENTURES OF BROMLEY BARNES

By George Barton

Author of "The Mystery of the Red Flame," "The World's Greatest Military Spies and Secret Service Agents," etc.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

Mr. Barton first "broke into print," as the saying goes, with a mystery story entitled "The Scoop of the Session," which was published in Collier's a number of years ago, and has the reputation of having written more short detective stories than any other writer in the United States. His chief and latest success is "The Mystery of the Red Flame."

In this new book Mr. Barton sets forth in absorbing fashion the Strange Adventures of Bromley Barnes, retired detective, but whose interest in the solution of baffling cases in public and private life is just as keen as in his days of active Government service.

Worried and harassed Government officials, also perplexed and anxious private individuals, seek the services of the astute detective in national problems and personal matters, and just how the suave and diplomatic Barnes clears away mysteries makes a story that is mighty good reading.

FICTION

A new "Blossom Shop" story

THE MT. BLOSSOM GIRLS

A sequel to "The Blossom Shop," "Anne of the Blossom Shop" and "Anne's Wedding"

By Isla May Mullins

Illustrated, cloth 12mo, decorative jacket, $1.50

In this fourth and last volume of The Blossom Shop stories May Carter and Gene Grey, who have won countless friends among readers of the series, come before them now as the center of interest. University graduates, the two girls come forth enamoured of the settlement idea, and proceed to carry it out at the mining and iron ore plant of their father in the mountains of Alabama, with the added interest of effort among the quaint mountaineers of the region. Things move at a lively pace from the moment of their arrival—things unexpected and gay and tragic, which put them on their mettle, but do not find them wanting. The girls are much imbued with the new independence of woman as well as with thought of her broadened sphere, and Cupid, who lingers near, is beset by various unyielding obstacles, but conquers in the end. The book has for an underlying thread ideals of the same high type which have characterized the former volumes.

"The Little Colonel Series, so dear to the hearts of many, finds an admirable second in the stories of THE BLOSSOM SHOP. We note the same feeling for youth and the same understanding of it — of its dreams and hopes and visions, the trials of the breaking and unfolding into sentiment of its various sentimentalities. Both women are wise in their stories — they are writing not only about youth, but for it, and they have no foolish ideas as to 'realism.'" — Louisville Evening Post.

THE MYSTERY OF THE RED FLAME (Second Printing)

By George Barton

Author of "The World's Greatest Military Spies and Secret Service Agents," etc.

Cloth, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

TAKE the glorious red flame diamond from the museum at Rio de Janeiro, a wily Brazilian rascal, as conceited as he is clever, romantic as well as a rogue, a little-talking but much-doing American Secret Service man, a diamond merchant whose activities won't bear a customs inspector's searchlight, and of course a beautiful girl! Imagine them all interested intensely in the diamond and most of them in the girl. It is evident that these ingredients are ideal for the thrilling mystery tale, especially when the author is a newspaper man whose hobby is the study of crime and criminals.

THE MYSTERY OF THE RED FLAME is the story par excellence to be read in conjunction with the shaded lamp, the arm chair and the open fire!

"Action, uncertainty, and most adroit detective work." — The Continent, Chicago.

"There is a lucidity of expression and easiness of narrative which gives a fine literary flavor to this engaging tale of love, mystery and adventure."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

THE NECKLACE OF JEWELS

By Marguerite Murphy

Cloth, 12mo, illustrated, $1.35

A DELIGHTFULLY fanciful series of fairy tales recounting the origin of the Diamond, the Opal, the Emerald, the Pearl and the Topaz. Told with rare charm and a captivating simplicity, these stories will be an excellent introduction to gem lore for juveniles, and adults will find their perusal both interesting and enjoyable. The loveliness of these major jewels will be enhanced for any who read this book.

In a tender way, which is marked by the kindliest humor and yet with a sympathetic appreciation, the author tells of a wonderful fairies' ball, a quaint little couple of Irish Fairies, a terrible Sea Monster and a lovely Mermaid, an irritable Old Man and an inquisitive Little Boy and how each little body played his or her part in the origin of the lovely jewels.

No more interesting book will be published this year than this decidedly original volume of fairy lore. It is an entrancing story and a notable contribution to juvenile literature.

FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

THREE BOYS IN THE INDIAN HILLS

By W. S. Phillips (El Comancho)

Author of "The Sandman: His Indian Stories," etc.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated by R. Farrington Elwell, $1.50

THE story of two white boys and an Indian lad on a trip in the wilderness to hunt big game. They have adventures with enemy tribes of Indians, as well as with wild beasts, and at the end of their trip the two white boys are adopted by Bull Plume, the Blackfoot Chief.

The author has lived with the Indians on and off from boyhood, and his descriptions of Indian manners and customs are unique. When a child in Nebraska his playmates were Otoe Indian children and he was often "borrowed" by Ar-kee-kee-tah, chief of the Otoe tribe, spending much time in the chief's own lodge. Thus he became imbued with the real Indian "atmosphere" which he imparts skilfully to his readers in this story.

Of the Indians El Comancho says: "I have lived with them for months at a time over a long period of years and I believe myself as much Indian as any white man can be. I have learned their point of view — learned to look at the universe through their eyes."

FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

THE BOY SCOUTS OF KENDALLVILLE

By Brewer Corcoran

Author of "The Road to Le Rêve," "The Barbarian," etc.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

THE story of a bright young factory worker who is drawn to the Boy Scout organization through his love of woodcraft. When war comes he cannot enlist because he has three dependents, but his knowledge of woodcraft and wig-wagging gained through Scout practice enable him to foil a German plot to blow up the munitions factory and he splendidly serves his country.

An excellent, timely story written in Mr. Corcoran's best style. This author really knows boys, and this lively tale in which scouting plays an important part will make the blood of every American lad tingle. No parent will hesitate to hand this book over to his son, with the suggestion that he model himself after the hero, Dick Hall.

An appreciation of Mr. Corcoran's previous book, "The Barbarian":

"Once in a while — and a while sometimes is a long period of time — some one writes a book that is recognized as literature. Brewer Corcoran has written such a book in THE BARBARIAN. This is a splendid story of friendship, study and sport, winding up with a perfectly corking double play." — Springfield Union.

FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

CAPTIVE OF THE SMUGGLERS

By John Masefield

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

Mr. Masefield, popular English poet, dramatist and author, who is also the official British historian of the Great War, and at present lecturing in this country, is peculiarly equipped to write realistic sea stories which will appeal to boy readers as he spent several years roving the sea in his youth.

This is a splendid story for boys, portraying in a realistic manner the adventures of Jim Davis, a sturdy young English lad, who, in order to save himself, was forced to join a band of smugglers, to live their rough life and to participate in their daring and hazardous raids.

The story is rapid in movement, full of incident, and its characters throughout are clearly and sharply drawn, and from a literary viewpoint it is far above the average tale for boys.

FICTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

CARITA AND HOW SHE BECAME A PATRIOTIC AMERICAN

By Lucy M. Blanchard

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50

The story opens with Carita Andrews definitely deciding — that is, as definitely as a fifteen-year-old girl usually decides — that she will always live in Mexico, despite the fact that both parents are loyal Americans and their long residence in Mexico is due to Mr. Andrews' business interests.

Carita is fascinated with the slow, picturesque life in Mexico — that land of strange customs and strong characteristics — and is of the opinion that everything in the States is too "new and shiny" to make the land livable.

Vividly the author describes that odd Mexican country and all the pleasures it afforded Carita and her friends, and splendidly she pictures it as a land of political strife and unrest, and finally she tells why Carita transfers her allegiance to the other land — where everything is not too "new and shiny."

MARJORY, THE CIRCUS GIRL

By Alice E. Allen

A companion volume to "Joe, the Circus Boy" and "The Martie Twins"
Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated, $1.25

In this new story all of the interesting little folks of the previous books again appear: Joe, the Circus Boy, Betty, The Martie Twins, Nancy, — oh, yes, Runaway Fritz, that cute dog, — but there are several new folks also; particularly Marjory, the Circus Girl, who has all sorts of adventures; then, the Penny Bank, five Pennys at first, but the final count is ten — a whole dime! And they are decidedly unusual Pennys.

The doings of all of these delightful people, related in Miss Allen's clever fashion, make a story that will satisfy the young people who have waited so long for this book, and will win many new friends for the author.

PRESENTATION VOLUMES

THE LIGHTER SIDE OF SCHOOL LIFE

By IAN HAY, author of "The First Hundred Thousand." With 12 illustrations in color by LEWIS BAUMER. 8vo, 312 pages, cloth, net $1.75. An attractive book for presentation to a schoolmaster or a schoolboy.

Ian Hay's countless readers are well aware that he is the delineator, par excellence, of that creature who occupies a place apart in modern social life,— the English schoolboy. In this amusing book Mr. Hay lays special emphasis on what may be called the romance of school life as distinguished from the reality, and extracts much humor from the contrast. Every line in the illustrator's drawings exhibits the exquisite humor of the subject-matter.

LAW AND LAUGHTER

By GEORGE A. MORTON and D. MACLEOD MALLOCH. With frontispiece in color and 32 other portraits. 8vo, 276 pages, buckram, net $1.75.

An unusually appropriate book for presentation to a lawyer.

In this volume of legal anecdotes has been brought together an extensive record of the exchange of repartee indulged in by judge and counsel, which, from the earliest days, has enlightened the somewhat sombre proceedings of the courts of justice in English-speaking countries. The illustrations consist of a frontispiece in color and thirty-two portraits of eminent members of the Bench and Bar of the British Isles and America, from the eighteenth century to the present day.

THE COMPLEAT ANGLER

By IZAAK WALTON. With frontispiece by JACOB HUYSMAN and 12 illustrations in color by W. LEE HANKEY, and reproductions of Old Angling Book Decorations. 8vo, 327 pages, buckram, net $1.75.

A new edition of a classic which has charmed generations of readers for two and a half centuries. W. Lee Hankey's fresh and lucid pastorals rouse the enthusiasm of the angler just as Walton's prose does.

LAVENGRO, THE SCHOLAR, THE GYPSY, THE PRIEST

By GEORGE BORROW. The Life and Character of the Gypsy. With 12 illustrations in color by EDMUND J. SULLIVAN. 8vo, 620 pages, buckram, net $1.75.

"Lavengro" will be welcomed by all open-air lovers who have succumbed to the peculiar, wayward charm of the scholar-gypsy. It is one of those uncommon books whose chief distinction is that it so reveals the "restless, puzzling, teasing personality" of the author, pervading and animating its every page. Mr. Sullivan has caught the spirit of the book, and his illustrations will surely satisfy the most exacting Borrovian.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

AN INTRODUCTION TO RUSSIAN MUSIC

By M. MONTAGUE-NATHAN. 12mo, decorative boards, net 75 cents.

Music students who need experienced guidance in the study of Russian music cannot do better than take Mr. Montague-Nathan as their pilot. Mr. Montague-Nathan possesses a remarkable fund of knowledge on his favorite subject from the early folk songs down to the latest works of contemporary composers.

By J. CUTHBERT HADDEN. With 15 portraits and illustrations. 8vo, 320 pages, buckram, net $1.75.

A book for players, singers, and listeners.

MODERN MUSICIANS

By J. CUTHBERT HADDEN. With 21 portraits. 8vo, 288 pages, buckram, net $1.75.

"Modern Musicians" deals clearly, authoritatively, informingly, but not too technically, with the work and characteristics of living composers, conductors, singers, violinists, and pianists.

TRACTS FOR THE TIMES

THE SERVILE STATE

By HILAIRE BELLOC. 8vo, 237 pages, buckram, net $1.00.

The book is a clear-headed estimate of the effect of modern legislation upon an industrial society, and it endeavors to demonstrate that the logical outcome is not Socialism but the establishment of two legally separate classes, — the one a small class in possession of the means of production, legally guaranteed in its enjoyments, the other a large proletarian class condemned to compulsory labor under the guarantee of a living sufficiency and security in its enjoyment.

THE SOCIAL UNREST: ITS CAUSE AND SOLUTION

By J. RAMSAY MACDONALD, M.P. 8vo, 137 pages, buckram, net $1.00. The author is chairman of the Labor Party in the House of Commons.

This, his latest book, is neither an academic treatise nor a propagandist pamphlet. It is an honest attempt, impassioned but impartial, to discover an answer to the ugly questions which thrust themselves on every one who reads his morning paper.

THE HIBBERT JOURNAL

A QUARTERLY REVIEW OF RELIGION, THEOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY

THE British editorial board of The Hibbert Journal includes such distinguished men as Professor L. P. Jacks, editor-in-chief, Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Edward Russell, James Drummond, Professor J. H. Muirhead, Canon T. K. Cheyne, and Professor Henry Jones.

The coöperation of an American editorial board enables The Hibbert to establish a kind of intellectual alliance between America and Great Britain in matters of the highest thought.

The Journal's remarkable success is due to its having filled a distinct place entirely unoccupied by any other publication, and having become a bridge of communication between the educated thinking layman on the one hand, and the expert scholar, the philosophic and scientific specialist on the other. The editors have distinctly pursued the policy of having all subjects dealt with in a clear, untechnical, and popular manner, so that the busy man who runs may read.

The broadest tolerance, a belief in the triumph of truth in a free conflict of opinion is The Hibbert's only creed, and no standard of doctrine is raised to which any contributor must conform.

Phonographic Stationery.

The Phonographic Institute Loose-Leaf Tablet. This tablet possesses the following advantages, which make it the most convenient and most economic shorthand note-book for the use of shorthand writers:

1. It lies open on the table perfectly flat, there being no fold in the paper. 2. The paper is held in the cover by metal arches, strong and permanent in construction—superior to rubber elastic bands, which quickly decay, and to tapes, which are inconvenient both in turning the page and in removing a portion of the sheets. 3. The sheets can be removed and replaced quickly and easily. Any one or more of the sheets may be removed without disturbing the rest. 4. The page can be turned with perfect ease and convenience, as the polisht metal rings create no friction. 5. The triply-perforated sheets may be readily bound with tapes when removed from the tablet. In this way the notes of any single piece of work may be permanently preserved intact. 6. When notes are transcribed the tablet may be doubled back on itself and inserted in any kind of copy-holder, just as any other note-book, or it may be used itself as a copy-holder by standing it upright. 7. Perforated paper for refilling may be bought in any quantity, ruled with single or double lines, and suitable for use with pen or pencil. 8. The tablet is strongly made and will last for years.

N. B.—This tablet is especially adapted to the use of schools of shorthand. For this purpose it is provided with four guide-cards that separate the sheets into four divisions—Copying Exercises, Writing Exercises, Dictation Exercises, and Corrections. By the use of the tablet the student has his work in one compact cover and the guide-cards enable him to turn instantly to any of its divisions. When the student has finisht his school course the guide-cards may be removed and the tablet is ready for his regular daily use as a professional shorthand writer.

The Christian Approach to Islam. The general subject of this book was embodied in a course of lectures delivered at the School of Missions, at Indianapolis, Indiana. It is a study of Mohammedanism with a view to the introduction of Christianity into the thought and the life of a people who have been reckoned as the natural and hereditary enemy of Christianity from the day of Mohammed.

The book is divided into three parts. Part I, External History, covers not only the history and spirit of Mohammedanism but the decisive conflicts which Mohammedanism has had with Christianity, and with special reference to the Ottoman Empire and Pan-Islamism as promoted by Abdul Hamid.

Part II deals with Mohammedanism as a Religion, treating not only the fundamental beliefs and practices of Islam but showing its relations to Christianity and discussing the common ground that they both occupy, with the important fact of the failure of Mohammedanism to satisfy its followers.

Part III discusses the relation of Mohammedanism to Christianity, going into the history of the attempts to Christianize, the difficulties of approach, and dwelling especially upon the message which Christianity possesses, ending with a program of evangelization. 8vo. The Surprise Book. The plan of the book is original and delightful. A little girl makes a scrap-book which is arranged with a pocket for each month of the year. Into this pocket, which is not to be opened until the month arrives, is put an entertaining story, in which the element of timeliness appears. In February it is a Valentine story, July centers about the Fourth, October about Halloween, etc.

The novelty of the idea and the excitement of anticipating each new story are the strong features likely to appeal to the youthful reader.

Moreover many a boy or girl would be fired with an ambition to make a "surprise book" themselves, and the idea seems wholly practicable. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. $1.00, postage 10 cents.

The illustrations in varied colors and marginal decorations by A. G. Hull help to make of it one of the most charming books for boys and girls we have ever published. $1.00, postage 10 cents.

The Original Plymouth Pulpit Sermons. Ten noble volumes bound in five. Each volume contains about 900 large pages, or a total of nearly 5,000 pages. These 260 sermons were delivered between 1868 and 1873, and include the prayers before and after each discourse.

Dr. Joseph Parker, the eloquent London preacher, Mr. Beecher's unswerving friend for twenty-three years, writes:

"As a preacher I believe the whole pulpit of the world would give him the palm."

When Charles Kingsley heard him he sat and wept like a child through the whole discourse, and when it was concluded he said:

"Mr. Beecher has said the very things I have been trying to say ever since I entered the Christian pulpit." The former cost of this set has been $25.00. The set in a box now $10.00. Express additional.

Later Plymouth Pulpit Sermons. Four volumes containing 25 to 50 sermons each, and the prayers before and after each discourse. These were delivered in 1873–75, during the time of Mr. Beecher's deepest trouble, when, in the opinion of many, his preaching showed his ripest thought and deepest feeling. The set 4 volumes $4.00. Express additional.

Faith's Certainties. The last volume of essays from "J. B.," one of the most remarkable molders of Christian thought of the present day on either side of the Atlantic. Conservatives and progressives alike have looked to him for leadership, and his spirit has always been so fair and Christian that he has been able to hold in a remarkable degree the respect and confidence of all. He masters so perfectly the essay form of writing that a distinguished literary critic declares that even Richard H. Hutton is second to him in that department of literature. As a conversationalist he had few equals, and his blitheness of spirit through a life-long fight with ill health is a reminder of Robert Louis Stevenson. $1.60, postage 10 cents.

HYMNALS AND SONG BOOKS

The Pilgrim Hymnal. An entirely new edition. The years of service which it has seen have tested and approved the merits of the Pilgrim Hymnal Plan. There have been, however, many changes made to improve the hymnal in every respect that experience has shown desirable. A careful inquiry has been made among the many churches using the former edition of the book and the results of these criticisms, favorable and adverse, appear in this revision. Consequently any church purchasing this up-to-date edition will benefit by the experience of the editors and of the churches who have tried out the hymnal. The book will prove a wonderful aid to a revived and enriched devotional service. The Pilgrim Hymnal contains 710 hymns and chants, 127 pages of Responsive Reading and other aids to worship, and 34 pages of indexes. The printed page is wonderfully clear and legible. It is printed from an entirely new font of type, cut especially for it, thus enabling the use of one size larger type than is employed in most other hymn books. The paper on which the book is printed is light in weight, thin, yet exceedingly opaque. Size, $8\frac{5}{8}$ x $6\frac{1}{2}$ x 1 inch. Bound in full cloth, $1.10, 100 copies $95.00. In half leather, $1.35, 100 copies $125.00.

Worship and Song. Edited by Benjamin S. Winchester and Grace W. Conant. A new and different hymn book for the Sunday school. In the preparation of this hymnal a constant endeavor has been made to adapt the material to the needs of those for whom the book is intended. In addition, therefore, to a carefully selected collection of the stately historical hymns of the Christian Church, old favorites that have come down through the ages, there is found here an abundance of more modern songs distinctly joyous in quality, strongly rhythmic in movement and particularly expressive of the spirit of youth. An entire section of Worship and Song is devoted to Orders of Worship, which have been compiled with a view to meeting the urgent demand felt in many Sunday Schools for a handbook of services. These orders have a marked inspirational value and it is believed that they will be found helpful and effective for a variety of seasons and occasions, as well as for more frequent use. The book contains 278 hymns and 91 pages devoted to Orders of Worship. Single copies, 60 cents. To schools in quantities, $50.00 a hundred, express additional.

The Chapel Hymnal. This is the best and cheapest for prayer and social meetings, and also for the smaller churches who desire with the well-known standard hymns of the church some of the best of the evangelistic style. The Chapel Hymnal has 360 hymns and responsive readings. 360 pages, green cloth. 60 cents each, $40.00 per hundred to churches. Express additional.

Song and Study for God's Little Ones. Edited by Bertha F. Vella, C. C. McCabe, D. B. Turner, and W. N. Hartshorn. Single copy, 30 cents. 12 copies, express not prepaid, $3.25. 100 copies, express not prepaid, $25.00.

Songs for Little People. A song book for the kindergarten and primary grades. By Frances Weld Danielson and Grace Wilbur Conant. 85 cents, postage 12 cents. Quantities 75 cents, carriage extra.

Bible Study Songs. By Bertha F. Vella. This song book differs from those hitherto issued in that it groups the songs into harmonious circles about individual lessons, illustrating themes presented in blackboard designs or mottoes. It thus becomes a handbook full of suggestion for the teacher of the primary department in Sunday school, or the leader of juvenile societies of almost any kind. The device is a happy one and well executed. Cloth, 40 cents, $4.20 per dozen. Express additional.

In some ways also it is an exceptional story full of laughter and tears, told in Puddefoot's best style; for those who have heard him no more need be said. About 400 pages. A COMPARISON OF TEXTS

King James Text

13 And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

"Modern Speech" Text

"One day people were bringing young children to Jesus for him to touch them, but the disciples interfered. Jesus, however, seeing this, was moved to indignation, and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me: do not hinder them; for to those who are child-like the Kingdom of God belongs. In solemn truth I tell you that no one who does not accept the Kingdom of God like a little child will by any possibility enter it.' Then he took them in His arms and blessed them lovingly, one by one, laying His hands upon them." Mark 10 : 10–16.

King James Text

38 Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND

HOLDS THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR SPEED AND ACCURACY

"THERE is always room at the top," is the old and true adage. But in the ladder that leads to attainment the perspective is reversed and the rungs become farther apart as the top is reached. The poorly equipped will reach no higher than the level of their attainments, and so is it with shorthand writers and shorthand systems.

The ISAAC PITMAN SYSTEM has demonstrated its unquestionable superiority over all others by winning the PRINCIPAL HONORS in the following ten International Contests:

FIRST INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Baltimore, 1906. The Miner Gold Medal, the only trophy awarded, won by Sidney H. Godfrey.

SECOND INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Boston, 1907. Miner Gold Medal, won by Sidney H. Godfrey, and Eagan International Cup, won by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

THIRD INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Philadelphia, 1908. Eagan International Cup, won for the SECOND TIME, by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

FOURTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Providence, 1909. Eagan International Cup, won for the THIRD TIME AND PERMANENTLY by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

SEVENTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Buffalo, 1911. Adams Accuracy Trophy, won by Miss Nellie M. Wood, and Shorthand Writer Cup won by Nathan Behrin. The only trophies offered.

EIGHTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, New York, 1912. The Shorthand Writer Cup and Gold Medal, won for the SECOND TIME, by Nathan Behrin.

NINTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Chicago, 1913. The Shorthand Writer Cup and Gold Medal, won for the THIRD TIME AND PERMANENTLY by Nathan Behrin. In this contest, Mr. Behrin established a NEW WORLD'S RECORD for ACCURACY of 98.3W in the three dictations of 200, 240 and 280 words per minute.

TENTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Atlantic City, N. J., 1914. Nathan Behrin again won the HIGHEST AWARD —Gold Medal—in the 280 word per minute test, with 98.6W Accuracy.

It is worthy of note that all the trophies in the above contests have been won by Pitmanic writers.
